

From the Editor's Desk.....✍

Destination Pune Research Scholar Readers..

It gives me immense pleasure to bring the first issue (Vol.- I, Issue-1) of the PUNE RESEARCH SCHOLAR An International Multidisciplinary Journal. (Multilingual English Hindi & Marathi language) I extend hearty greetings and welcome all the contributors who have contributed their research articles for the issue. I'm sure that our attempt of bringing this e-journal into force will surely make available another crucial avenue for the scholars and students to share their creativity, thoughts, ideas, perceptions and overall awareness about the emerging modifications and changes in all the learning arenas of Modern Education. All these collected thoughts, threads and issues will be open for all the readers to read, understand, analyses and utilize the quality data for their academic and research purpose with the proper channel. Indeed, it would play a vital role to establish an open platform to exchange the thoughts, understanding and views about all subjects of Modern Learning.

I must express my gratitude towards all the friends and academicians who have helped us directly or indirectly to make this venture concrete and successful. I'm greatly indebted to all the Editors who have nicely performed their responsibilities as Executive Editor, Co-Editors, Associate Editors, Guest Editors and Review Panel Members and gave their precious time to make this successful and appreciable attempt. I also extend the deep gratitude towards all the members of the National and International Editorial Advisory Board who have put into words their fruitful advices to present the said endeavor in better way.

Once again, I congratulate all the authors who have sent their quality research papers for this first issue. All the selected research articles can be seen, read and downloaded by following the line: www.puneresearch.com/scholar It is known to all that no piece of literature can acquire the recognition until and unless it goes through the analytical stream of thinking of every reader who has a literary sense.

Therefore, I'm very much curious to experience and rectify the comments and feedback from all the readers, scholars, academicians and students. You can share your experience and feedback on: myogesh22@yahoo.com, editorpuneresearch@gmail.com or puneresearch@hotmail.com

.....

Regards,

Dr. Yogesh T. Malshette

Editor-in-Chief

PUNE RESEARCH SCHOLAR

An International Multidisciplinary Journal